From the Vice Chancellor

In my long academic career, I have discovered the efficacy of listening to erudite scholars in the institutions of higher learning. The students listening to the learned lectures of versatile scholars and eminent experts find themselves benefitted by the stimulating and inspiring speeches; and with the result they feel motivated to achieving excellent standard in the domain of their studies. Bearing this in mind, I have been encouraging various Departments of Study to arrange for special lecture programmes so as to expose the young learners to experienced teachers and perceptive scholars.

Not a day passes without the visit of scholarly personalities and versatile men of learning to the campus adding lustre to the academic atmosphere and research environment and the required resources are allotted to the Departments towards this farsighted objective. It is pertinent to mention here that the “start-up grant” given to the teaching fraternity from Alagappa University Research Fund aims at fostering and preserving the research culture among the faculty. It is hoped that it will enthuse the young researchers to take the road not taken or less travelled so far, thus paving the way for innovative research.

The Placement Cell is actively engaged in finding jobs for the aspirants and conducts a number of placement programmes for various Departments. The Skill Development Centre is poised for further growth as imparting skills among youngsters is a major policy thrust on the part of the governments.

In the current scenario, ambience of an educational campus matters a lot. To give more green cover to the environs of the University, the work of creating some more gardens is taken up in all earnestness; and to cater to the growing needs of infrastructural facilities a few additional buildings are in the process of construction.

Thanks to the Government of Tamil Nadu, the Paralympics Centre has started functioning and is doing yeomen service to the differently abled children. As usual, the current issue regales the readers with a presentation of significant events that happened in the campus during the period under review.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONVOCATION OF ALAGAPPA UNIVERSITY

The 28th Convocation of Alagappa University was held on 17th November 2015, The Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University Prof. S. Subbiah presided over the function. Justice S. Nagamuthu of the Madras High Court, delivered the Convocation Address. In his address the Hon'ble Justice apparently irked over the growing intolerance that 'damaged' the social and political systems in the country, he has called upon the youth to fight against evil forces, which tried to divide the people on religion, caste, sect and creed. "They attempt to convert the diversities in India to various divisions among the people. Let us not give room for that." The Judge also said "Let us all be united. Let us all maintain brotherhood. Let us all preserve purity in our thinking and in our action. Let us all be nationalists. Let us preserve our great tradition and culture. Let us all have concern for the poor. Let us all work for the development of the country to achieve vision 2020."

The Judge said that the evil forces also tried to destroy the progress and prosperity and destabilise the country and corruption stood as the first and foremost of all such evils. The younger generation should resolve to hate corruption at any level of the government and public life. "To keep our unity in diversity intact..., let us all take a resolve that we shall keep our younger generation informed of our history and the system of governance and take every citizen of this country together."

Speaking on the occasion, Selvi. Apoorva, Secretary, Department of Higher Education, said that Tamil Nadu stood first in the country in maintaining high enrolment ratio. The government aspired to focus on quality improvement and value addition to produce competitive and employable graduates.

In all, 32,220 candidates, including 19,453 women students, from the university departments, affiliated colleges, collaborative programmes and distance education were conferred with degrees. A total of 211 candidates, including 96 Ph.D. scholars, received the degrees in person. Vice-Chancellor S. Subbiah handed over the degrees. Registrar Prof. V. Manickavasagam and Mrs. Umayal Ramanathan, Life Member of the Syndicate, were among the others present.

FACULTY OF ARTS

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH AND FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Lecture on the Mind and Art of Mulk Raj Anand

Dr. M.A.K. Sukumar, Pro-Vice Chancellor, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, delivered a scholarly lecture on the Mind and Art of Mulk Raj Anand with special reference to his remarkable work Coolie on 16.07.2015 at the Department of English and Foreign Languages, Alagappa University. He highlighted how Anand condemns the exploitation of the poverty stricken multitudes through the story of unhero like hero Munoo in the novel Coolie which he described as the odyssey of Munoo. Illustrating from the episodes of the novel, the distinguished speaker showed how the exploitation of the poor by the rich eats away the spirit and soul of the poor. Munoo is shown as a victim of money-lending horror and inhuman treatment. The pictures presented by Anand portray how capitalism, industrialism and communalism, all combined together, wreak vengeance on a robust 14-year old boy. He undergoes all agonies in two years time and dies a tragic death at the age of 16 owing to tuberculosis which saps all his energies. Dwelling on the narrative art of Anand, the speaker made references to the slow but vigorous and sensitive narration. The novelist's point of view is governed in turn by artistic considerations. The narration is simple and straight forward and the mode followed by Anand is that of a social chronicler with a reformist zeal.

Special Lecture Programme

On 17th July 2015, the Department of English and Foreign Languages organized a Special Lecture Programme on "Research in American Literature." Dr. P. Madhan, Assistant Professor and Head i/c, welcomed the gathering and introduced the guest speaker Prof. K. Raja Raman, Professor of English, Annamalai University. In his special address, Prof. K. Raja Raman pointed out the areas in American Literature which need to be researched. He stated that in the present scenario the researchers focus only on the themes like marginalization, diaspora and alienation and forget to make an analysis of cultural studies which is the need of the hour. Commenting on the Afro-American Writers, he made a reference to Langston Hughes, Claud Mckay, Gwendolyn Brooks, Toni Morrison and Alice Walker. He concluded his speech by stating that researchers should come forward to do research on the less travelled areas of American Literature. Dr. M. Natarajan, Assistant Professor, proposed a vote of thanks.

Lecture on Literature, Sociology and Psychology

Prof. A. Ayyasamy, Retired Professor from Ethiopia, addressing the students of English Language and Literature of Alagappa University on 9th September 2015 opened his speech saying that writers are extremely sensitive to their surroundings and are greatly agitated by the happenings around them. The speaker likened writers to oysters which produced pearl when irritated to the maximum by a drop of water or a grain of sand. And writers want to reach a vast audience so as to bring about social change. Starting with Chaucer, the speaker gave examples of Ben Johnson, Addison and Steele, Sheridan, Dickens, Eliot and related how all of them criticised society around them, bringing out the evil that was around. The distinguished speaker illustrated his point with Khushwant Singh's "Karma" and Ambose Bierce's "A Horseman in the Sky". Speaking of social change, he pointed out how the writings of Voltaire and Rousseau caused the French Revolution and how it ushered in democracy in the whole world.

Adverting to Tamil Literature, he referred to Sujatha's story "Nagaram" which shows how a labyrinth of red tapism makes government facilities inaccessible to the innocent rustic. His next example was a story by himself which showed how even strong people become powerless in front of authority. He dwelt with Anna's (C. N. Annadurai) "Kathal Jothi" ("Flame of Love"), wherein the dramatist exposes the many facets of the evil called casteism. He then took up Macbeth for a detailed psychological study of the two characters and pointed out with evidences from the play, that both had suffered intense nervous breakdown due to guilty conscience. He then took up the Tamil epic Silappathikaram and delineated the character of Kovalan, Kannagi and Madhavi. Making a psycho analysis of Kovalan, he said that he was a representative of the degenerate youth of the Sangam Age, and his conscience wreaks vengeance on him in the latter part of the story.

Prof. K. Chellappan Endowment Lecture on Comparative Literature

The Department of English and Foreign Languages, Alagappa University, under the aegis of Prof. K. Chellappan Endowment, organised a special lecture on Comparative Literature on 30th October 2015. Dr.

P. Madhan, Head i/c of the Dept. delivered the welcome address. The Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University Prof. Dr. S. Subbiah presided over the function and made the presidential address wherein he emphasised the significance of studying Comparative Literature. He, in his speech, illustrated elaborately that a study of more than one literature would elevate the thinking of humanity to a great extent. He added that when students were exposed to many literature being the reflections of life, would surely broaden their minds. The first endowment lecture was delivered by Prof. Dr. V. Ayothi, former Head of the Dept. of English, Bharathidasan University. In his speech, he explained that Comparative Literature is an effective tool to prove the fact that humanity is one and literature is one. Though humanity is divided on religious, political, economic and geographical lines, literature binds them together. He emphasised the importance of studying the classics from World Literature as they help us to perceive the meaning of life and to lead a fruitful life. Referring to the study of literature, the distinguished speaker said that they help us understand various cultures. He also said how various literary theories and approaches help the scholars to delve deep into the literature of various cultures. Comparative literature is indeed a way of studying literature of various nations and cultures. It calls at least for a mastery over two literatures belonging to two cultures. He added that it requires a thorough knowledge of the two languages concerned, from which the works have been taken up for a study. He gave a number of illustrations from the works of Shakespeare, Milton, Kambar and Ilangovadigal and the poems of Wordsworth and Bharathidasan. Thus, if the domain of Comparative Literature gets nurtured and nourished, he said, it would play a stellar role in the maintenance of international harmony. He further exemplified that Comparative Literature brings to the fore the identical and similar factors among the various human communities not only at national level but also at international level as well. Dr. M. Natarajan, Assistant Professor of English, proposed a vote of thanks.

Special Lecture Programme on English Language Teaching

The Department of English and Foreign Languages, Alagappa University, Karaikudi, organized a series of lectures on English Language Teaching from 16.12.2015 to 18.12.2015. The invited speaker Dr. S. Venkateswaran, Formerly Professor, Regional Institute of English, Gnanabharathi, Bangalore, is an eminent Professor with rich experience. Dr. P. Madhan, Associate Professor and Head i/c delivered the welcome address. The resource person laid a strong foundation in the young minds by inculcating the basic concepts of English Language Teaching. He explained and illustrated various approaches and methods of teaching English, including Direct Method, Grammar Translation Method, Bilingual Method, Audio-lingual Method and Situational Approach. He also made some interesting observations on the up and coming trends in English Language Teaching. His insightful discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of the above mentioned methods made the session more vibrant. Apart from teaching theories, Dr. S. Venkateswaran gave a demo for the teaching of short stories, using "chaining method." His lectures were quite thought provoking and he fully justified his purpose by inculcating the vital role of English, in the minds of the young learners. Dr. S.Valliammai, Assistant Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages, proposed a vote of thanks.

Special Lectures on Research Methodology

The Department of English and Foreign Languages, Alagappa University organized a series of Special Lectures on "Research Methodology" from 14.09.2015 to 18.09.2015. Dr. P. Madhan, Head i/c, welcomed the gathering and introduced the guest of honour Prof. S. Kanakaraj, Formerly Director, DDE, and Professor and Head, Dept. of English, DDE, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai. Further, he praised the yeomen service of Prof. S. Kanakaraj in various capacities at University level. Then he underlined his scholarship over Research Methodology and Translation Studies by referring to his scholarly publication. In a five-day long lecture programme Prof. S. Kanakaraj covered the topics such as Selection of Thesis Topic, the Role of Review of Literature, Note-taking, Documentation, Outlining, Style in Thesis Writing and Mechanics of Writing; and with his programmatic approach the speaker enlightened the students and research scholars of the department on various aspects of literary research. He hinted at the challenges to be encountered by them and offered clues to overcome them. Besides the aforesaid areas, he threw light on the differences between scientific research and literary research. At the end, he clarified the doubts of the students and research scholars with regard to research in English Literature. Dr. M. Natarajan, Assistant Professor, proposed a vote of thanks.

DEPARTMENT OF WOMEN'S STUDIES

International Conference on Women and Social Transformation: New Era of Just and Gender - Fair Society

"International Conference on Women and Social Transformation: New Era of Just and Gender Fair Society" was organised by the Centre for Women's Studies and Department of Women's Studies, Alagappa University, Karaikudi on 21st and 22nd August 2015 at L.C.T.L Palaniappa Chettiar Memorial Auditorium.

The Director of Women's Studies and Convener, Prof. K. Manimekalai, delivered the welcome and thematic address. Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University, presided over the Conference. He explained that social transformation through women empowerment was an emerging trend which would soon be an essential part of the society as it is considered the need of the hour. He underscored the idea of gender equality as a fundamental pillar for a just and gender fair society. In his inaugural speech Prof. H. Devaraj, Vice-Chairperson, University Grants Commission, New Delhi, referred to the focus laid by the UGC on quality education and excellence in higher education especially skill development. Women are more important in the society in spite of their invisibility' he said; and hence every individual should be educated about gender sensitization for a gender fair society' he added. He felt that social transformation in the country would be possible only through women empowerment. Further, he added that Alagappa University might get an Advanced Centre for Women's Studies in future.

Prof. Anita Lundberg, James Cook University, Singapore, delivered the keynote address and said that women's education played a key role in bringing about social transformation and creating gender equality.

Finally, Dr. K.R. Murugan, Associate Professor, Department of Women's Studies, Alagappa University, Karaikudi, proposed a vote of thanks. More than 500 participants from various Universities and Colleges participated in the conference.

National Seminar on Safety and Security of Women and Girls in Public Spaces: Planning and Designing Mechanism

Under the aegis of the Department of Women's Studies, Alagappa University, a National Seminar on Safety and Security of Women and Girls in Public Spaces: Planning and Designing Mechanism was held on 5th December, 2015.

Prof. K.R. Murugan, Department of Women's Studies, Alagappa University delivered the welcome address and elaborated the objectives of the two-day National Seminar. Prof. K. Manimekalai, Dean, Faculty of Arts, Alagappa University, presented an interesting and thought provoking thematic introduction.

Prof. B. Regina Pappa, the Founder Director of Women's Studies Department at Alagappa University inaugurated the National Seminar. In her inaugural address, she said that women and girls were frequently subjected to violence on city streets, public transportation or in their own neighbourhoods. Such daily occurrences limited the rights and freedom of women as equal citizens and prevented them from enjoying their lives in their neighbourhoods and cities. Violence against women in public spaces reduced their access to essential services, and had negative impact on their health and well-being. Hence she felt that every woman should be well aware of the safety mechanism in public spaces.

Thiru. Cholan CT. Palanisamy M.L.A, Karaikudi Constituency, delivered the special address at the seminar. He explained in detail all the schemes and programmes initiated by the Government of Tamil Nadu to enhance safety and security measures to protect women and girls.

The second day of the seminar was devoted to a Symposium on Planning and Designing Mechanism for Women's Safety. The Vice-Chancellor Prof. S. Subbiah presided over the function and initiated the second day's proceedings. He said that in a culture that adored women as the supreme creations of God, it is painful to note that women have become vulnerable sections of society facing violence outside their homes. He noted that the under-reporting of crimes involving violence against women in public spaces was frequent; and consequently, instances of violence against women are estimated to be more widespread than what statistics depicts, he added. Also he said that it is unbearable to imagine the pitiable plight of women and girls who are the sufferers of such offences in public spaces.

The Honourable Member of Parliament, Thiru. P.R Senthilnathan, Sivagangai Constituency, delivered the keynote address. In his speech, he expressed his concern about the increasing violence advised that every individual should have a fundamental duty to ensure dignity and respect for woman in the society, so that she can also enjoy her rights with a sense of pride, freedom, courage and confidence. To ensure this at every level, the society must be vigilant and watchfull to safeguard the individual freedom by dispelling the fear psychosis from the minds of women.

Mrs. Karpagam Ilango, Chairperson, Karaikudi Municipality, offered her felicitations. She discussed various defense mechanisms to safeguard women and girls in public spaces. She added that abusive behaviour towards women must be viewed as a crime. Every individual in the society must act as an agent of change and pave the way for ending violence in public spaces. Perpetrators of this type of crime should be dealt with severely by law enforcing authorities.

The felicitation was followed by a Book Release function. Thiru. P.R Senthilnathan, Member of Parliament, Sivagangai, released a Hand Book on Women's Studies and it was received by the Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University. The Member of Parliament, Thiru. P.R Senthilnathan also released another book entitled Gender-based Regional Analysis of National Statistics and it was received by the Chair Person of Karaikudi Municipality Mrs. Karpagam Elango.

Dr. K.R. Murugan, Professor, Department of Women's Studies, explained about the good practices to enhance women's safety in public spaces, Dr. B. Dharmalingam, Director, Alagappa Institute of Skill Development highlighted the measures to be taken to put an end to violence against women.

More than 300 participants including faculties from University Departments and Affiliated Colleges of Alagappa University, representatives of local self-government, members of Self-Help Groups, NGOs, research scholars and post-graduate students participated in the two-day Seminar.

GENDER SENSITIZATION PROGRAMME FOR UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT STUDENTS

The Centre for Women's Studies, Alagappa University organized "Gender Sensitization Programme for University Department Students" on 22nd December 2015 at Mary Wollstonecraft Hall.

Dr. N.K. Bhuvaneshwari, Project Associate, Centre for Women's Studies, delivered the welcome address. Prof. K. Manimekalai, Director, Centre for Women's Studies and Dean, Faculty of Arts, in her presidential address stressed the significance of Gender Sensitization Programme. She analyzed the perception of self and also the perception of men and women have about each other. And she claimed that through behavior modification of teachers and parents towards their children a causal effect on gender equality could be brought about.

Prof. K.R. Murugan, Department of Women's Studies, Alagappa University, Karaikudi, delivered a lecture on Gender Ideology. In his address, he pointed out the recent statistics on the status of women in India. He explained the need for Gender Sensitization to create awareness about gender issues for creating a conducive environment for gender justice where men and women can work together with a sense of personal security and dignity.

Ms. P. Veeramani, Assistant Professor, Centre for Women's Studies, delivered a lecture on Women Empowerment. In her address, she discussed the hindrances encountered in the process of women empowerment and she suggested various strategies to empower women. Further, all the participants freely expressed their views on the role of family, religion, media, career and profession in the process of gender sensitization

Mr. I. Sivakumar, Assistant Professor, Centre for Women's Studies, referred to the Constitutional provisions for women's empowerment. In his address, he focussed attention on the imminent need for safety and security of women in the society. He added that despite a strong legislation there has been no reduction in incidents of assault and physical abuse of women. He felt it was due to larger socio-political ills and environmental changes in Indian society today. He noted that right thinking men and women should unite together to stop violence against women.

At the end of the programme, Dr. T. Murugesan, Project Associate, Centre for Women's Studies, proposed a vote of thanks. Students, research scholars and staff numbering about 80 participated in the Gender Sensitization Programme.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Workshop on Dissemination of Census Data 2011

The inaugural function of a one-day workshop on “Dissemination of Census Data 2011” organized by the Department of Economics and Rural Development of Alagappa University, Karaikudi, under the aegis of Directorate of Census Operations (Tamil Nadu), Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India was held on 21.12.2015 in the Seminar Hall of the Convocation Auditorium.

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, in his presidential address, said that the Directorate of Census Operations of Government of India is doing a commendable job in scientifically collecting, lucidly designing and usefully disseminating census data of the country for well over 130 years for every decennial period. Over the decades, the scope and fineness of the data covered have increased enabling informed decision making by the administrators. Indian Census is the single largest and very much credible source of a variety of statistical information on the demography, literacy and education, housing and household amenities, economic activity, migration and settlement and so on. Quoting the distinguished scholar and administrator, Shri Ashok Mitra who put Indian Census on the world map introducing new concepts and classifications, the Vice-Chancellor said the 15th National Census of the country, Census 2011, was the 7th release after independence of the country having an unbroken series of history since 1872. He also said that the Directorate of Census Operations, Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India, is scrupulously following a great historical tradition of conducting the decennial census without any break despite adversities like wars, epidemics, natural calamities, etc. He commended the role of the school teachers who constitute the vast majority of the field personnel involved in the house to house canvassing as part of census data collection exercise.

Mr. M.R.V. Krishna Rao, Joint Director, Directorate of Census Operations, Tamil Nadu Circle, in his inaugural address, said that the Census 2011 with the reference date of 1st March 2011 was carried out in two phases on 35 parameters of information in 16 Indian Languages. 10 lakh schedules were processed with state-of-art information communication resources. The population enumeration has become very elaborate containing 29 questions. He said that the data collection process started from the house to house canvassing followed by scanning, image recognition, image validation, manual completion of unrecognized characters, data base creation, and tabulation. Data dissemination is very much streamlined so that the census data are superior in quality aspects as well, despite its high quantitative volume.

Prof. M. Selvam, Chairperson, School of Management Studies, Alagappa University, in his felicitation address observed that the census data have become very much qualitative by giving vital information on 108 data categories / components. Officials from the Directorate of Census Operations, Tamil Nadu including the Deputy and Assistant Directors, besides others participated and also addressed the gathering.

Dr. A. Narayamoorthy, Coordinator and Professor & Head, Department of Economics and Rural Development welcomed the gathering. Dr. B. Dharmalingam, Professor, proposed a vote of thanks.

DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE

International Literacy Day

International Literacy Day was celebrated at the Department of Library and Information Science on 8th September 2015. Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, presided over the function and delivered the inaugural address. He referred to the impressive literacy rate of Indian Population which stood at 74%. He added that India has occupied the third place based on the number of educational institutions. The USA and China have got the first and second places respectively. He said that the earnest efforts of the Government of India and State Governments have really contributed to this increase in literacy rate. Implementation of a number of schemes have brought benefits to the people at the lower rungs of society. Benefits of the literacy growth included poverty eradication, reduction in the child mortality, control of population growth and attainment of the gender equality. And in this context he noted that the status of education in Tamilnadu is a point to be noted. The government has motivated students with free education in all government schools. This, he hoped, would ensure a sustained growth in the educational sector in Tamilnadu, which would promote social and political harmony in this part of the country.

Dr. K. Elavazhagan, Chief Knowledge Officer, Indian Institute of Management, Trichy, delivered the keynote address. He said: "Literacy does not end with mere reading and writing skills. It goes beyond that. Computer literacy, mobile literacy and such other literacy skills too play a significant role in the employability of students". Prof. A. Narayanamoorthy, Member of the Syndicate, offered his felicitations. Dr.S.Thanuskodi, Professor & Head, welcomed the gathering and Dr. R. Jeyshankar, Assistant Professor, proposed a vote of thanks.

Special Lecture Programme

A Special Lecture programme was organized by the Department of Animal Health and Management for the benefit of students, research scholars and faculties. Totally 75 members participated in the programme. The lecture was delivered by Dr. A. Gopalakrishnan, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Marine Science, Parangipettai, Annamalai University, on the topic “Disease and Parasite as Threat to Marine Biodiversity” on December 11, 2015. He focussed on the major diseases including fish tumor and also on the histopathological studies. He gave valuable suggestions to students and also motivated the scholars to do good research work. Students were exposed to current trends through this special lecture on different branches of Marine Biodiversity and its importance.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOELECTRONICS AND BIOSENSORS

Department Achievements

The Department is actively engaged in the design and development of novel electrochemical and gas sensors for applications in the fields of medicine, environment & food technology. During the period of this report, research articles were published in leading international journals like- Materials Science and Engineering C (IF: 3.088), Nanotechnology (IF: 3.446), Applied Catalysis B: Environ.(IF: 7.435), Phys. Rev.

Lett. (IF: 7.512), RSC Advances (IF: 3.84), and Electrochim. Acta (IF: 4.504).

Invited Lectures Delivered by the Faculty

Dr. C. Sekar, Professor and Head of the Department, attended an International Conference on Sensing, Information and Decision at the Cellular Level held at International Centre for Theoretical Physics (ICTP), Trieste, Italy from 14th to 17th July 2015. The conference was inaugurated on July 14, with a brief introduction about ICTP and the theme of the conference. In total, there were 67 participants from various countries including India, USA, Germany, Moldova, Iran, Spain, Italy, Egypt, etc. The opening ceremony lasted just for 10 minutes which was followed by a Keynote Speech by Prof. Marsili Matteo of ICTP, Trieste. Dr. Sekar presented a research paper entitled "Metal oxide semiconductor based biosensors for medical diagnostic applications". The work was well received and appreciated by the participants due to its significance in the area of medicine. Dr. Sekar received the financial assistance from ICTP-Trieste and CICS-Chennai for travel, registration and local hospitality. Prof. Sekar delivered a speech on 4th December 2015 at Bhaarath Public School, Aaravayal-Karaikudi on the eve of National Energy Conservation Day-2015. He also delivered an invited lecture at the National Seminar on Photonics and Its Applications (NSPA- 2015) held at University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram from 9th to 11th December 2015. He has received a research project worth Rs. 49.00 Lakhs from DST-SERB for the work relevant to the development of biosensors for detection of neurotransmitters.

Dr. V. Dharuman, Assistant Professor, has been awarded with research projects; (i) Studies on membrane proteins interactions on liposome-DNA-gold nanoparticle composite tethered on gold transducer for biosensing (DST-SERB) worth Rs. 44.70 lakhs, and (ii) Development of novel graphene and metal nanocomposite films and characterization for label free electrochemical DNA-protein sensing (UGC) worth Rs. 14.69 lakhs respectively. Dr. Dharuman and his group presented papers at the International Conference on Recent Advance in Materials and Chemical Sciences (ICRAMCS-2015) held at Gandhigram Rural Institute, Dindugul, Tamilnadu, on December 14-15, 2015.

Dr. J. Wilson, Assistant Professor, has received two research projects; (i) Fabrication and characterization of irradiated polypyrrole-polyaniline nanotubes (ppy-pani) doped with bimetallic nanoparticles (UGC) worth Rs. 10.50 lakhs and (ii) Irradiation of polypyrrole-poly 3,4 dihylenedioxythiophene nanotubes (ppy-pedot) doped with bimetallic nanoparticles for biomolecules sensing using microelectrodes (DST-SERB) worth Rs. 30.46 lakhs.

Achievements by a Research Scholar

Ms. N. Lavanya, Senior Research Fellow (DST-SERB Project) visited the Department of Electronic Engineering, Chemistry and Industrial Engineering, University of Messina, Italy as a Visiting Researcher for three months during April - July 2015. She worked under the supervision of Prof. Giovanni Neri, Professor of Chemistry and Chair person of Gas Sensor Lab and also a member of the Directive Board of AISEM (Italian Association of Sensors and Microsystems). His laboratory is well known for its significant contribution in the field of chemo-biosensors. During this period, Ms. Lavanya developed chemo-biosensors based on metal oxide nanoparticles for precise detection of a few selected toxic and explosive gases and biomolecules.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOINFORMATICS

Achievements by the Faculty

Dr. J. Jeyakanthan has been awarded the UGC Research award for his work on Structural and Functional Insights of Potential Therapeutic Dengue Fever Protein from Homo sapiens. He delivered an invited lecture on "Campus Internationalization" held on 22nd September 2015 conducted by TANECA, Chennai.

Dr. Sanjeev Kumar Singh delivered invited lectures on the 'Impact of Computer aided drug design and Molecular modelling in current drug discovery' and 'Mechanistic insights on HIV-1 integrase inhibition by strand transfer and LEDGF/p75 binding site inhibitors: a computational approach' at Recent Developments in Medical Biotechnology and Structure-based Drug Designing held at Indian Institute of Technology, Guwahati on 6th - 7th, December, 2015.

Dr. M. Karthikeyan delivered an invited lecture entitled Essential Bioinformatics Tools and Database Development at Dept. of Biotechnology, St. Joseph's College (Autonomous), Tiruchirappalli on 13th July, 2015.

Special Lectures by Eminent Scientists

The Department of Bioinformatics invited Dr. Shanmugam Achiraman, Assistant Professor, Chemical Ecology Research Lab, Department of Environmental Biotechnology, Bharathidasan University, Trichy, to deliver a lecture on Immunoinformatics to the students and share his expertise with them. The lecture programme was arranged on 14th and 15th September, 2015.

Dr. K. Premkumar, Assistant Professor, Department of Biomedical Science, Bharathidasan University Tiruchirappalli, delivered lectures on Pharmacogenomics to the students and shared his expertise with them on 18th & 19th September, 2015. Dr. Mohane Coumar, Assistant Professor, Centre for Bioinformatics, Pondicherry University, delivered lectures on Molecular Modelling and Drug Designing to the students on 9th & 10th October, 2015. Dr. Ganesh Venkatraman, Associate Professor, Department of Human Genetics, Sri Ramachandra University, Chennai, delivered lectures on Molecular Cell Biology and Genetic Engineering to the students and shared his expertise with students on 16th & 17th October 2015. Dr. K. Gunasekaran, Assistant Professor, CAS in Crystallography and Biophysics, University of Madras, Chennai, gave lectures on Small and Macro Molecular X-ray Crystallography and Structural Biology to the students on 29th & 30th October, 2015.

Dr. R. Krishna, Assistant Professor, Centre for Bioinformatics, Pondicherry University, spoke on Small and Macro Molecular X-ray Crystallography to the students on 11.12.2015.

Ms. Shantkriti Srinivasan, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology, National College, Tiruchirappalli, delivered a lecture on Immunoinformatics to the students on 12.12.2015.

Research Scholar's achievement

Mr. Umesh Panwar has been awarded Alagappa University Research Fellowship (AURF) on 25th, November, 2015. He secured the first rank in Ph.D. Pre-registration Qualifying Entrance Examination, conducted by Alagappa University.

World Habitat Day Celebrations

World Habitat Day was celebrated by the Department of Bioinformatics, Alagappa University, on 15th October 2015. Prof. P. Manisankar, Dean Research, in his thematic address concluded that there is an emerging need for developing and creating adequate spaces accessible to all. Prof. A. Narayanamoorthy, Dean, Faculty of Arts, said in his special address that rapid urbanization of the states is creating difficulties in navigability and availability of public spaces. He also said that efficient steps have to be taken in infusing awareness among the present generation, so that the latter could enjoy the benefits of economic security. Prof. T.R. Gurumoorthy, Director, Directorate of Distance Education, emphasized in his keynote address about the preservation of the existing natural habitat economy for comfortable living and for providing shelter to all. Earlier Prof. J. Jeyakanthan welcomed the gathering and explained the importance of celebrating World Habitat Day. Dr. Sanjeev Kumar Singh, Associate Professor, proposed a vote of thanks.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

National Mathematics Day

National Mathematics Day was observed in connection with the Ramanujan's birthday celebrations on 22nd December 2015 by the Department of Mathematics. Dr. V. Balachandran, Registrar i/c. inaugurated the function. Dr. P. Kanniyappan, Former Vice Chancellor of Alagappa University, delivered the keynote address.

Achievements by the Faculty

Prof. C. Ganesamoorthy delivered a talk at a DST-sponsored INSPIRE Programme on 1st December 2015 at Mepco Schlenk Engineering College, Sivakasi.

Prof. N. Anbazhagan delivered a talk in the Refresher Course held from 25th November to 15th December 2015, at the Department of Mathematics, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai. He also delivered a talk at the National Level Three-day DST sponsored "Mathematics Popularization and Communication" program held on 5th, 6th & 7th November 2015, at Kings College of Engineering, Thanjavur. He delivered a lecture at the National seminar on "Emerging Trends in Applications of Mathematics" held on 16th September 2015, at the Department of Mathematics, Dr. MGR-Janaki College of Arts and Science for Women, Chennai.

Dr. J. Vimala delivered a talk at the State Level Workshop on "Abstract Algebra and Its Applications" (MEGA-2015) held on 28th August 2015 at the Department of Mathematics, Sri Saradha Niketan College for Women, Amaravathiputhur.

DEPARTMENT OF BIOTECHNOLOGY

Invited Lectures Delivered by the Faculty

Dr. S. Karutha Pandian, Professor & Head, Department of Biotechnology, delivered a special lecture on “Recent Trends in Biotechnology” at an awareness programme on “Creation of Scientific Awareness” catalysed and supported by the Tamil Nadu State Council for Science & Technology (TNSCS&T) organized by Sri Kaliswari College, Sivakasi on 4th July, 2015. He also delivered the keynote address entitled “Electrophoresis of Nucleic Acids and Proteins” at the DBT Sponsored Hands-on Training on Sophisticated Instruments (Theme: Enhancement of Employability Skills) organized by Department of Pharmaceutical Technology & DST Sponsored National Facility for Drug Development (NFDD), at Bharathidasan Institute of Technology, Anna University, Tiruchirappalli from 5th to 7th, October, 2015.

Awards Received by the Staff

Dr. K. Pandima Devi, Associate Professor, Department of Biotechnology, was honoured with Women Scientist Award for the Year 2014 on 22nd November, 2015 by the Biotech Research Society of India (BRSI), Thiruvananthapuram in recognition of her work and achievements in the field of Pharmaceutical Biotechnology. The award carried a citation and a cash reward of Rs 25,000.

Special Lectures by Eminent Scientists

Prof. K. Veluthambi FNA, FASc, FNASc, UGC-BSR Faculty Fellow, School of Biotechnology, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai, delivered a lecture on “Gene tagging in rice by positive/negative selection: Knock-out of the OsMADSI gene” on 14th August, 2015.

Dr. Christopher Gunasekaran, Scientific Methods Incorporation Granger, Indiana, USA delivered a special lecture on “Environmental DNA Solutions” on 15th October, 2015.

Dr. Aruni Wilson, Assistant Research Professor, Division of Microbiology & Molecular Genetics, School of Medicine, Loma Linda University, California, USA delivered a special lecture on Ethics in “Omics” research on 18th December, 2015.

Dr. Deepak Balasubramanian, Stephen Lorny Lab, Department of Microbiology & Immunology, Harvard Medical School, Boston, delivered a lecture on “Gene regulatory network in Pseudomonas aeruginosa” on 30th December, 2015.

Dr. Kalai Mathee, Founding Director, Global Health Consortium, Professor of Molecular Microbiology & Infectious Diseases, Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine, Florida International University, Miami, Florida, USA delivered a special lecture on “Pseudomonas aeruginosa MifS-MifR two-component system is involved C5-dicarboxylate α -ketoglutarate transport and virulence” on 30th December, 2015.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL CHEMISTRY

Department Achievements

- The h-index of the department has increased to 41 from 39
- Ph.D. Theses approved: 03
- Ph.D. Theses submitted: 02
- Research Publications in International SCI Journals: 16
- Cumulative impact factor: 54.74; Average impact factor: 3.42
- Research papers presented in International Conferences: 13
- Research papers presented in National Conferences: 06

Grants Received

- DST has released a sum of Rs.10.5 lakhs to the Dept. of Industrial Chemistry under FIST scheme.
- UGC has sanctioned Rs.17.54 lakhs for 5 BSR fellowships under UGC BSR scheme.

Fellowship Sanctioned

- UGC has sanctioned 5 BSR research fellowships to the Dept. of Industrial Chemistry for the year 2014-15.

Invited Lectures Delivered by the Faculty

Dr. P. Manisankar delivered a talk on “Nanomaterials” and also the valedictory address at the conference entitled “Science Camp under INSPIRE Internship Component of INSPIRE Program” held at Virudhunagar Hindu Nadar's Senthikumara Nadar College, Virudhunagar, on 5th, August, 2015. He also delivered a memorial lecture on “Prafulla Chandra Ray” at CECRI on 7th, August, 2015. He also delivered a keynote Lecture on ‘Heavy Metal Ion Analysis through Electroanalytical Techniques’ in the “8th Asia-Pacific Symposium on Ion Analysis” held at Chiba, Japan from 31st Aug. to 3rd Sept.2015. He also delivered a talk on “Fabrication and performance evaluation of quasi solid state dye sensitized solar cells” at SBK College, Arupukottai on 11th October, 2015.

Dr. H. Gurumallesh Prabu (i) visited Germany and participated in Science & Society Conference held at Heidelberg on 5th -6th Nov.2015; (ii) visited France and presented a research paper in 10th ICENS conference held at Paris on 7th Nov.2015

Special Lectures by Eminent Scientist

Prof. Keiji Nagai, Chemical Resources Laboratory, Tokyo Institute of Technology, Yokohama, Kanagawa, Japan delivered a talk on “P-N junction based Organophotocatalysis” in the Department on 11th Dec 2015.

Industrial Visit

The Department of Industrial Chemistry arranged a two-day Industrial visit to Kochi, Kerala, for the students and scholars on 30th Sept & 1st Oct 2015. Team of 68 PG students, 14 Research scholars, 6 faculty members and one lab assistant visited Sud-Chemie India, Binanipuram in Kerala and Travancore – Cochin Chemicals Ltd (A Government Company), Udyogamandal, Cochin, in Kerala.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

Parents – Teachers Meet – 2015

The 'Parents – Teachers Meet' program (sponsored by Alagappa University) was conducted on 18th December, 2015, at the Seminar Hall of Department of Physics, Science Block, Alagappa University. Dr. S. Rajendran, Former Professor and Head, attended the meeting and delivered the felicitation address. He stressed the importance of the role of parents to bring up their children in terms of employability. The parents and students of M.Sc. (I and II Year) and M.Phil Physics attended the meeting. A total of 118 (88 students and 30 parents) members participated in the event. The feedback from the parents was received and parents had a word of praise for various efforts taken by the department to ascertain the good performance of their wards.

Alumni Meet – 2015

The 'Alumni Meet' program (sponsored by Alagappa University) was conducted on 19th December, 2015, by the Department of Physics at the Science Block of Alagappa University. The Chief-Guests, Dr. S. Kalyana Sundaram, Former Professor and Head, Department of Physics, Dr. M. Ramachandran, Former Professor of Physics and Dr. T. Thenappan, Former Professor of Physics, Alagappa University, attended the meeting and offered their felicitations. A total of 60 alumni and 8 faculty members of Physics participated in the event. An alumni association was formed and future plan of action involving the alumni was discussed fruitfully. It was decided to conduct the meet once in two years and to generate funds to support the economically unprivileged students pursuing the M.Sc Physics programme.

Special Lecture by Eminent Scientist

CSIR-NET/GATE Coaching Classes

The Department of Physics organized a series of CSIR-NET/GATE coaching classes during November 2015. Experts from various institutions were invited to conduct training and coaching classes for the aspirants. A special emphasis was made to solve problems in the afternoon session. Dr. R. Radhakrishnan, Jamal Mohamed College, Tiruchirappalli, conducted classes on Classical Mechanics. Dr. S. S. Naina Mohammed, Government Arts College, Udumalpet, delivered a special lecture on Mathematical physics. Dr. A. Basheerduin Mahmud Ahmed, Professor of Physics, Madurai Kamaraj University, delivered a special lecture on Quantum Mechanics. Dr. P. Philominathan, AVVM Sri Pushpam College, delivered a special lecture on Statistical Mechanics. Lectures were delivered on 23rd, 24th, 25th and 27th November 2015. Dr. N. Satyanarayana, Professor of Physics, Pondicherry University, conducted classes on Electromagnetic Theory on 28th and 29th November 2015. The feedback from the students revealed the fruitful interaction of students with the invited experts.

National Recognition to the Department

The Department of Physics was selected one among the few departments in India with a grant of Rs.158 Lakhs by DST - FIST –Phase II – Level 1 (Period : 2016-2020) by the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, New Delhi, to strengthen the infrastructure for teaching and ongoing research activities.

DEPARTMENT OF OCEANOGRAPHY AND COSTAL AREA STUDIES

State Level Seminar on Sensitive Coastal Ecosystems

The inaugural function of the State Level Seminar on “Sensitive Coastal Ecosystems” organized by the School of Marine Sciences, Department of Oceanography and Coastal Area Studies of Alagappa University, Karaikudi was held on 11.12.15 in the Seminar Hall of the Department of Oceanography and Coastal Area Studies at Thondi campus.

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University, in his presidential address, exhorted the participants to know more about the sensitive ecosystem. He said that human being is sensitive than any other living systems in the world. But, environment is more sensitive than human beings. For instance, sea has become sensitive after Tsunami. Seventy one percent of the earth covered by the ocean plays a vital role in Bio Geo chemical cycle and also more importantly in marine and coastal ecosystem functions.

The ocean possesses various vital organisms like mangroves, coral reefs, sea grasses and seaweeds. But, instead of conserving these biological resources man has become insensitive to these ecosystems. Now these are on the verge of extinction. All the teachers, marine scientists and students must focus on special features and unique nature of the ocean as well as the ways and the means of conserving these resources for future prosperity, he added. The research work carried out by the researchers must be useful to the society for the sustainable use of the coastal and marine resources in Palk Bay and in the Gulf of Mannar region. The Marine biologists must educate the public particularly fishermen to protect the marine animals through the creation of awareness among the coastal fisher folk.

Prof. S. Karuthapandian, Member of Syndicate and Dean, Faculty of Science, Alagappa University, in his felicitation address emphasized that urbanization in the land is the main cause for threatening the marine ecosystem particularly brackish water ecosystem that facilitates the health of the ocean through biogeochemical cycling. The recent advancement of science helps to understand the nutrient recycling by EDNA analysis (environmental DNA analysis). All the marine scientists must direct the research towards conserving the marine ecosystems by considering the ballast water release from the ships.

Students from APSA College, Tiruppattur, Alagappa Government Arts College, Karaikudi, Bharathidasan University, Trichy and Arulmigu Sri Meenakshi Government Arts College, Madurai participated.

In the valedictory function, Dr. A.R. T. Arasu, Formerly Principal Scientist, Central Institute of Brackish Water Aquaculture, Chennai, delivered the valedictory address.

Earlier, Dr. C. Stella, Convener, welcomed the gathering. Dr. C. Govindasamy, Organizing Secretary, proposed a vote of thanks.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION

Alagappa College of Physical Education

Higher Education Secretary visits Para Sports Centre at Alagappa University

Selvi. Apoorva, I.A.S., Secretary to Government, Higher Education Department, visited the Para Sports Centre at Alagappa University, launched by the Government of Tamil Nadu in 2014 at a cost of Rs.65 lakhs. The Centre is functioning in the College of Physical Education of Alagappa University to impart training to the differently-abled sports persons at the State/National/International level to upscale their talents and to take part in sports events. The Centre has items of specialized equipment like Discus throwing Frame, 3D printed seats for wheelchair basket ball, wheel-chair rugby etc. for the differently-abled persons to participate in Paralympic Sports. She also inspected the sports events organised for the differently-abled persons.

Dr. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, spoke of the plan on the anvil to offer Certificate, Diploma and Post-graduate Diploma Programmes in Paralympic. The National / International participants of Paralympic Games will get the academic recognition through these programmes for getting employment opportunities. Special training/Training camps will be organised for disabled sports persons in harnessing their abilities to get top places in the National / International level of events. Short-term motivational/awareness programmes will be organised for the physically-disabled children / youth in identifying their hidden skills and developing the same with high focus. Alagappa University inked a MOU with Tamil Nadu Paralympic Sports Association. Prof. V. Manickavasagam, Registrar, Dr. M. Sundar, Principal, Alagappa University College of Physical Education and the Representatives of Para Sports National Educational Academy, Madurai, were also present on the occasion.

National Seminar on “Fit and Healthy India – Vision 2023”

A Two-day National Seminar on “Fit and Healthy India – Vision 2023” was organized by the Alagappa University College of Physical Education on 28.9.2015 at the L.C.T.L. Palaniappa Chettiar Memorial Auditorium.

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, in his presidential address said that Alagappa University College of Physical Education established in 1956 by the great philanthropist Dr. RM. Alagappa Chettiar has the rare distinction of having produced a good number of eminent sports persons, renowned academicians and national athletes. The Government of Tamil Nadu has allotted substantial grant for the development and promotion of sports, particularly in the rural areas to tap the sports talents of rural youth and develop them on par with the global stream. Recently, the Government of Tamil Nadu has permitted Alagappa University to start a “Para-Sports Centre” to impart coaching and training in sports to differently-abled persons.

He advised the students to become fit and healthy through proper and regular physical exercises for their betterment and avoidance of medical expenses in their routine life. Further, he emphasized that the purpose of education is to produce physically sound, mentally strong, emotionally stable and socially committed citizens. He appealed to the physical education teachers to provide ample opportunities and guidance to the students to bring out their hidden talents.

Dr. G. Ravindran, Principal of Koviloor Andavar College, Koviloor, in his inaugural address said that the students of Physical Education College to undergo regular practices, participate in national and international games, excel in their chosen fields and bring laurels to the College and their families.

Dr. C. Ananda Jothi, Secretary General, Tamil Nadu Paralympic Sports Association, Chennai, in his keynote address explained the posture values, special training on spine safety and health practices on paralympic sports.

In all, 144 Research Papers were presented at the technical sessions. Mr. J. Ranjith Kumar, National Awardee and International Athlete and President of Tamil Nadu Paralympic Sports Association and Mr. T. Venkatesan, International Athlete and Secretary, Wheelchair Fencing Paralympic Sports Association, were honoured during this occasion.

Earlier, Dr. M. Sundar, Principal, Alagappa University College of Physical Education welcomed the gathering. Dr. K. Muralirajan proposed a vote of thanks.

Para Sports Training Centre

The Government of Tamil Nadu has sanctioned a sum of Rs.65 lakhs to establish a Para Sports Training Centre at Alagappa University, Karaikudi, for the promotion and development of para sports.

The main objectives of the Training Centre is to give an opportunity to the differently abled sports persons to develop their skills in sports; and it will impart special training to them and help them to participate in the State / National / International Sports Competitions. An MoU has been signed with Tamil Nadu Paralympic Sports Association, Chennai, for collaborative training to the disabled students. For providing proper training to the para sports persons, a coach has been exclusively appointed to train the para sports persons in various sports and games.

Recently, Dwarf National Level Athletic Meet was held at Bengaluru on 12th & 13th December 2015. In this athletic meet, Para Sports Persons from 12 States participated, viz. Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Chattisgarh, Delhi, Gujarat, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Pondicherry, Tamil Nadu and Telungana. Alagappa University Para Sports Team represented Tamil Nadu and the team was accompanied by the coach Mr. S. Karthick.

The following participants bagged various prizes in the competitions:

1. S. Sivarajan won 1st prize gold medal in 200 mtrs., 2nd prize silver medal in 100 mtrs. and 2nd prize silver medal in 4 x 100 relay
2. A. Selvaraj won 1st prize gold medal in javelin, 2nd prize silver medal in 4 x 100 relay
3. G. Ganesan won 2nd prize silver medal in shotput

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, congratulated the winners and also appreciated the efforts taken by the coach and Dr. M. Sundar, Principal of Alagappa University College of Physical Education. Dr. V. Balachandran, Registrar i/c., was also present on the occasion.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

National Education Day

The National Education Day was celebrated in Alagappa University, Karaikudi on 24.11.2015.

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, in his presidential address, highlighted the contributions of Maulana Abdul Kalam Azad, the first Education Minister of India, and the importance of celebrating the National Education Day. He emphasized the role of parents and teachers to shape the children with values. Every child has a right to access quality education. The teachers have the responsibility to provide good atmosphere to the students to learn their subjects happily, he added. The original objective of quality education is to make the students responsible citizens to the society and respect the fellow beings. Good education should be the training ground to provide experiences for life and profession. "Education is not preparation for life but life itself", he quoted.

The Vice-Chancellor gave away Prizes and Certificates to the winners of inter-school competitions conducted in connection with the National Education Day.

Dr. P. Prema, Formerly Dean, Faculty of Education, Alagappa University, in her Special Address, stressed the importance of values with which students should be sensitized with a focus on justice, fraternity, equality, liberty, and education for all. Also, she insisted that the teachers and students should properly balance their rights and duties. An institution should give importance to three domains like welfare, need and right approaches. She explained the significance of access, equity, inclusiveness and quality in education in general and higher education in particular.

Dr. A. Narayanamoorthy, Member of the Syndicate and Dr. P. Sivakumar, Dean, Faculty of Education, offered their felicitations. Earlier, Dr. G. Kalaiyaran, Head i/c., Department of Education, welcomed the gathering and Dr. R. Ramnath, Assistant Professor, proposed a vote of thanks. The Department of Education made the arrangements for the conduct of the celebrations.

DEPARTMENT OF SPECIAL EDUCATION AND REHABILITATION SCIENCES

International Day of the Disabled

International Day of the Disabled – 2015 was observed at Alagappa University, Karaikudi on 7.12.15 under the aegis of Department of Special Education and Rehabilitation Sciences and Para Sports Center of the University.

Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, in his presidential address, said the core purpose of this function was to create an awareness in the society on the need for building both competence and confidence not only in the minds of the disabled children but also their parents. The parents must realize that these children need compassionate care and committed parental practices and right kind of education that would guarantee a respectful life to these children, he stressed. The Vice-Chancellor said that as per 2011 census out of 2.68 crore disabled people in India, 1.51 crore disabled were male and the rest female. Further every year about 25,000 babies are born with physical disability. Alagappa University is having the unique distinction of offering B.Ed., and M.Ed., Programmes in Special Education together with a Special School for the differently abled children. The University is also approaching the University Grants Commission for Rs.25 crore funding for establishing a Special School for the disabled with Residential facilities.

Prof. K. Meena, Formerly Vice-Chancellor, Bharathidasan University, Tiruchirappalli, in her Special Address appreciated that Alagappa University is in the fore-front of offering special education meant for grooming human resources to serve the special children with life skill education. She also emphasized that the society should also do its part of ensuring an anxiety-free life for the differently abled children through proper education which would make them entrepreneurs as well. Sensitization of everyone is needed so that the special children could get all the support they rightfully deserve.

Further, she said that a special software for developing Mathematics readiness for children with down syndrome was developed by her. She added that, it will be very useful for special teachers and parents. Further, she informed that the Special School teachers and parents can contact her at drk.meena@gmail.com for getting the CD at free of cost.

Professor P. Subas Chandra Bose, Formerly Member of the Syndicate and presently a member of the Senate of the University, in his felicitation observed that the society has a great role in relieving the psychological stress of the differently-abled children and their parents, through a holistic support.

The differently abled children from seven special schools from the Sivaganga district took part in cultural and sports competitions and were awarded prizes. The faculty members Mr. S. Suresh and Mr. S. Vinothkumar were honoured on this occasion.

Dr. J. Sujathamalini, Organizing Secretary of the programme and Coordinator of the Special Education Programme, welcomed the gathering. Dr. M. Sundar, Principal, AUCPE proposed a vote of thanks.

ALAGAPPA INSTITUTE OF SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Beautician/ Facial Training Programme

Alagappa Institute of Skill Development organized a One Day Beautician / Facial Training Programme for Household women in association with Dinamalar Newspaper on 20th June 2015 at Alagappa University Old Auditorium, AUCE campus. Dr. B. Dharmalingam, Director, Alagappa Institute of Skill Development, Alagappa University, Karaikudi, welcomed the gathering. The experts from Lavanya Herbal Beauty Parlour, Karaikudi, handled the training session. They trained the participants in different areas of beautician course. More than 75 women participated and got trained in home-made Beautician / Facial methods.

World Youth Skills Day

Alagappa Institute of Skill Development organized World Youth Skills Day in association with Alagappa University – IL&FS Institute of Skills (AU-IIS) on 15th July, 2015 at our University Old Auditorium, AUCE campus. The Day was celebrated as announced by the United Nations General Assembly.

Professor S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University, in his presidential address said that, "India has 35 crore youngsters at the age between 10 and 25. The people in working age (15 to 59) are also high in India. He also stressed that Skill Development is very much essential for the growth of our nation. The Government of India has determined to make our Nation as 'Skill Capital of the World'. In order to facilitate this, the Prime Minister of India has launched the scheme called 'Skill India'. The Govt. of Tamil Nadu has given skill training to 3,22,000 youngsters and granted Rs.150 cr for providing skill training to the youth."

Professor V. Manickavasagam, Registrar, Alagappa University, delivered the keynote address. Mr. K.M. Rajan, Assistant Vice-President, IL&FS Institute of Skills, Chennai, delivered the special address. Dr. B. Dharmalingam, Director, Alagappa Institute of Skill Development, Alagappa University, Karaikudi, welcomed the gathering. Dr. C. Balakrishnan, Assistant Professor, Alagappa Institute of Skill Development, Alagappa University, proposed a vote of thanks.

Professor S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor, Alagappa University in his Presidential Address said that the lack of Soft Skills is a key reason for unemployability. He advised the Research Scholars to develop Learning, Speaking, Reading and Writing (LSRW) skills to enhance their Communication Skills and Employability skills. He opined that compulsion and necessity will make the individuals learn English. Now, the Industries and Service Sectors are looking for the employees possessing good Communication Skills, Team Work and Collaboration, Adaptability, Problem Solving, Critical Observation and Conflict Resolution Abilities. However, teaching profession requires Communicative Skills, Positive Motivation, Effective Body Language and Sense of Humour. When employees / teachers lack these basic soft skills, it can hurt the overall success of the Institution.

Dr. A. Narayanamoorthy, Member of the Syndicate, Alagappa University, in his inaugural address stressed upon the importance of Communication Skills to the research scholars for delivering their research findings in an effective manner. He advised the Scholars to speak in English with confidence in order to get employment opportunities in this competitive world. Ms. Kalpana Chowdary Lagadapati, CEO, Infitech, Chennai, in her Special Address said that there is less number of research scholars in India compared to other developed countries. The percentage of research scholars in India is only 0.02%, while it is 0.08% in China. It is because of the investment on Research and Development in India is lower than China.

Seventy five Research Scholars from various Departments of Alagappa University participated in the Training Programme. The Soft Skills trainers, Ms. Pramila and Ms. Priya, from Infitech, Chennai, gave the training.

The valedictory function of the Three-day Soft Skill Communicative Training Programme to the Research Scholars was held on 12th September, 2015 at the University Convocation Seminar Hall. Dr. T.R. The Alagappa University, conducted 140th birth anniversary celebrations of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel on 31.10.2015 in the Management Block of University. Faculty members and students in large number participated in the celebrations.

Dr.V.Balachandran, Professor & Head i/c and Dean (Student Affairs) presided over the function. In his presidential address he narrated the role of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the iron man of India. He appreciated his great qualities of determination, unshakeable confidence and patriotism. He is mainly responsible for the integration of Indian nation. He added that the most historic and commendable achievement of Patelji was the integration of five hundred and sixty two princely States under the Indian union. He was awarded with Bharat Ratna which is India's highest civilian honour, posthumously. In India, his birthday is celebrated on 31 October as Sardar Jayanti. Our honourable Prime Minister suggested to celebrate Patel's birthday as national unity day as he sacrificed his life for the cause of freedom of India.

Dr.H.Gurumallesh Prabhu, Professor of Chemistry and Special Officer (Planning and Development), Alagappa University delivered a special address in the function. In his address he said that India was categorized into hundreds of various different kingdoms, separated by conflicting ideas and interests before independence. It was Sardar Patel who undertook the herculean task of contacting every prince for the united India. He informed the students the reasons as to why people started calling him affectionately Patelji as Sardar. As a Chief of people particularly farmers, he worked hard for the upliftment of rural community. Further, he appreciated Sardar's commitment, dedication and organizational capacity for the freedom India.

Dr. P. Sivakumar, Professor of Education and Dean Faculty of Education delivered his appreciation address in the function. In his address he said that Patel was a great social leader who played a leading role in the country's struggle for independence and guided its integration into a united, independent nation. He had the rare qualities of real leadership, faith and fearlessness in bringing together small states as a United India. .

Later, Ms.A.Preethi, II year MBA student of the Department of Bank Management and Ms.RM.Alaghu Nachiar, I year MBA student of the Department of Corporate Secretaryship, spoke about the contribution of Sardar Patel during the freedom struggle and the rare qualities of Sardar. ORIENTATION PROGRAMME

An orientation programme was organized under the aegis of the Deanship of Student Affairs of Alagappa University, Karaikudi, for the freshers of B.Ed., M.Ed., B.P.Ed., and M.P.Ed. Programmes of 2015-16 batch.

Inaugurating the programme, Prof. S. Subbiah, Vice-Chancellor of Alagappa University, spoke of India being the 3rd largest country in higher education in the world and the 1st largest country in respect of enrollment of students. The Government of India allocated around Rs.70,000 crores to higher education for developing the infrastructural and instructional facilities in the Colleges and the Universities. Recalling the words of Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, he said that the nation's future depends on the quality of teachers and students. Further, he stressed that the teachers should become the role model to their students by their quality of teaching, conduct and command over the language. He advised the students to make use of the facilities available in the University and prepare themselves to face the challenges in the highly competitive situation.

Prof. V. Manickavasagam, Registrar, Alagappa University, in his presidential address, listed out the vital statistics pertaining to the University such as the number of Departments, Staff, Programmes, Affiliated Colleges and the number of students studying on and off the campus. He appealed to the students to acquire clarity in their chosen subjects and prepare themselves to face the competitive examinations so as to become fit for the jobs in the market.

The Deans of various faculties, the Officials of the University, the Co-ordinators of NSS, RRC, YRC, Cultural Club and the Director of Study Circle addressed the students. 330 students from the Faculty of Education participated.

Earlier Dr. V. Balachandran, Dean, Student Affairs welcomed the gathering and Dr. J. Sujathamalini proposed a vote of thanks.

FLOOD RELIEF FUND

Alagappa University, Karaikudi, contributed a sum of Rs.10.00 lakhs to the Tamil Nadu Chief Minister's Flood Relief Fund towards relief and rehabilitation of the flood affected victims in Chennai, Kancheepuram, Cuddalore and Tiruvallur districts of Tamil Nadu.

Further, the Vice-Chancellor announced about the installation of a Special Cell in the University to issue the degree certificates to those who have lost their certificates in the recent flood-affected areas of Tamil Nadu. He said that the students could approach the University with supporting documents to get the certificates free of cost.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) has been signed between Alagappa University, Karaikudi and Alagappa Chettiar College of Engineering and Technology (ACCET), Karaikudi, to collaborate with academic activities, share the human resources and expertise for the common benefits of the institutions and student community.

The main objective of the MoU is to enhance the quality of academic and technical education and augment the existing complementary capacities of both institutions and to become dynamic, demand driven, quality conscious, efficient and forward looking in response to rapidly developing economic, academic and technological developments occurring at both the National and International levels.

The specific interest of activities of both the institutions will aim at carrying out research in the areas of Physics, Chemistry, Biosensors, Electronics, IT, Computer Science, Management and Library Science jointly. Further, collaborative development of products and techniques harnessing the achievement of basic sciences will also be made by both institutions.

Moreover, the students of ACCET, Karaikudi, can avail the programmes / courses conducted by IL&FS under the aegis of Alagappa University by following the procedures in force. Students of both the institutions will have the opportunities to avail the extra-curricular activities using the arrangements by both institutions like Alagappa University Study Circle, and Entrepreneurship Development Cell. Both parties will notify the other about the arrangements that they make for the benefit of students community and for the cause of education and placement. Similarly, the expertise of ACCET in the field of Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering may be availed as an advice as and when it is required by the Alagappa University.
